PART VI.—Bills introduced in Parliament of India Reports of Select Committees prese Parliament; and Bills published before introduction in Parliament.

LOK SABHA

The following Bill was introduced in Lok Sabha on the 30th April, 1965.

BILL No. 29 OF 1965

A Bill further to amend the Income-tax Act, 1961

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Sixteenth Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Income-tax (Amendment) Act, 1965.

(2) It shall come into force immediately.

Amendment of section 36,

2. In section 36 of the Income-tax Act, 1961, in sub-section (1), after clause (viii), the following clause shall be, and shall be deemed always to have been, inserted, namely:— 43 of 1961.

"(ix) any rent or royalty paid by the assessee to the Central Government or to any State Government or local authority for mining rights granted to him under a mining lease executed under the provisions of the Mines and Minerals (Regulation and Development) Act, 1957 or the Rules made by the Central Government or any State Government in exercise of powers conferred under the said Act." 67 of 1957,

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

It is commonly accepted that the payment of royalty is made wholly and exclusively for the purpose of a given business. The question, however, is whether such payment is on capital or revenue account. The purpose of the proposed amendment is to ensure that royalty payments under Mining Leases are allowed as deductible expenditure in computing business income under the parent Act.

A Full Bench of the Lahore High Court and the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council had held at one time that the payment of royalty was the price of the raw material or stock-in-trade and therefore a revenue expenditure [vide (1947) 15 I.T.R. 185 and (1949) 17 I.T.R. 473]. In the case of Pingle Industries Ltd. vs. C.I.T. (1960) 40 I.T.R. 67, the Supreme Court held (by a majority judgment of two to one) that the assessee acquired by the long term lease a part of the land, and that the payment was neither rent nor royalty, but a lump-sum payment in instalments for acquiring a capital asset of enduring benefit to the trade. The latest decision of the Rajasthan High Court has, however, made further departure in pronouncing that even royalty which was calculated by reference to the production of the mineral is—Capital expenditure [vide (1964) 51 I.T.R. 533]. It is noteworthy that the Income-tax Department has now as a consequence of the decision of the Rajasthan High Court made it a rule to disallow such royalty payments as deductible expenditure.

It would be pertinent to recall that the Taxation Enquiry Commission (1953-54) in paragraph 7 of its Report (Vol. II, pages 87-88) has categorically stated that "where royalty is payable on the basis of production, it is clearly admissible (as deductible business expenditure)". Similarly, the Direct Taxes Administration Enquiry Committee (otherwise known as the Tyagi Committee) observed "that disallowance of royalties in the assessment cases of mining industry would obviously hamper its development and ability to compete in the world markets" Moreover, the then Finance Minister of India, at the time of the debate on the Income-tax Bill, 1961, clearly said that royalty for mining is eligible for deduction in computing the taxable income of a business vide Lok Sabha Debates dated 28th August 1961.

The proposed amendment would fulfil the assurance given by the Finance Minister of India when the parent Bill was being passed and would implement the view uniformly taken by various Committees. Such a provision would also protect and give a fillip to the mining industry in our country.

Hence the Bill.

PART VI.—Bills introduced in Parliament of India; Reports of Select Committees presented to Parliament; and Bills published before introduction in Parliament.

RAJYA SABHA

The following Bill was introduced in the Rajya Sabha on the 14th May, 1965:—

II

BILL No. XI OF 1965

A bill further to amend the Constitution of India.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Sixteenth Year of the Republic of India as follows:

1. (1) This Act may be called the Constitution (Amendment) Act, 1965. Short title and commencement

(2) It shall come into force on such date as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint.

2. In the Seventh Schedule to the Constitution,— Amendment of Seventh Schedule.

(a) entry 11 of List II—State List shall be omitted;

(b) after entry 24 of List III—Concurrent List, the following entry shall be inserted, namely:—

"24A. Education including universities, subject to the provisions of entries 63, 64, 65 and 66 of List I."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

After the attainment of Independence there has been considerable expansion in the field of education in the country. But in terms of standard and quality of education, in spite of a vast increase in the number of universities, colleges and schools, there has set in a steady and deplorable deterioration. Much of this malady is attributable to the lack of a co-ordinated and well planned national policy of educaton. Education is now an exclusively State subject, and educational policies differ from State to State. This is a very unsatisfactory situation, and the time has come when education should be taken out of the exclusive purview of the States and put in the Concurrent List so that Parliament and the Central Government would be in a position effectively to formulate and pursue a sound educational policy which may be applied uniformly throughout the country at all levels. Hence this Bill.

PART VI.—Bills introduced in Parliament of India; Reports of Select Committees presented to Parliament; and Bills published before introduction in Parliament.

LOK SABHA

The following Bill was introduced in Lok Sabha on the 24th April, 1964:—

BILL NO. 36 OF 1964

A Bill further to amend the Constitution of India

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Fifteenth Year of the Republic of India as follows:

Short title

1. This Act may be called the Constitution (Eighteenth Amendment) Act, 1964.

Amendment of artical 359.

2. In article 359 of the Constitution,—

(a) after clause (1), the following clause shall be inserted, and shall be deemed always to have been inserted, namely:—

"(2) While an order made under clause (1) in relation to any of the rights conferred by Part III is in operation, nothing in that Part conferring those rights shall restrict the power of the State as defined in the said Part to make any law or to take any executive action which the State would but for the provisions contained in that Part be competent to make or to take, but any law so made shall, to the extent of the incompetency, cease to have effect as soon as the order aforesaid ceases to operate, except as respects things done or omitted to be done before the law so ceases to have effect.",

(b) the existing clauses (2) and (3) shall be re-numbered as clauses (3) and (4), respectively;

(c) in clause (3) as so re-numbered, after the words "the territory of India", the words "or may apply to all persons or any class of persons therein, and any such order may be made so as to be retrospective to any date not earlier than the date of the issue of the Proclamation" shall be inserted, and shall be deemed always to have been inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

When a Proclamation of Emergency is in operation, the President is empowered under article 359 of the Constitution to make an order suspending the right to move any court for the enforcement of such of the rights conferred by Part III as may be mentioned in that order. It was intended that the powers conferred by this article should be exercised during an emergency according to the needs of the situation. On the other hand, article 358 renders the provisions of article 19 automatically inoperative while the Proclamation of Emergency is in operation, and the power to make any law or to take any executive action is not restricted by the provisions of that article. The intention underlying article 359 appears to be that when an order is made under clause (1) of that article in relation to any of the rights conferred by Part III, the order so made would have the same effect in relation to those rights as article 358 has in relation to article 19. On account, however, of the difference in language between article 358 and article 359, doubts may arise as to the effect of an order made under article 359. The Bill seeks to remove these doubts by inserting a new clause in article 359 which follows the language of article 358.

2 It is further proposed to make it clear that the order made under clause (1) of article 359 may be made so as to make it applicable to all persons or any class of persons It is also proposed to take powers to make the order with retrospective effect to any date not earlier than the date of issue of the Proclamation.

Explanation.—Any acquisition made under the Rajasthan Tenancy Act, 1955 (Rajasthan Act III of 1955), in contravention of the second proviso to clause (1) of article 31A shall, to the extent of the contravention, be void.".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Article 31A of the Constitution provides that a law in respect of the acquisition by the State of any estate or of any rights therein or the extinguishment or modification of any such rights shall not be deemed to be void on the ground that it is inconsistent with, or takes away or abridges any of the rights conferred by article 14, article 19 or article 31. The protection of this article is available only in respect of such tenures as were estates on the 26th January, 1950, when the Constitution came into force. The expression "estate" has been defined differently in different States and, as a result of the transfer of land from one State to another on account of the reorganisation of States, the expression has come to be defined differently in different parts of the same State. Moreover, many of the land reform enactments relate to lands which are not included in an estate. Several State Acts relating to land reform were struck down on the ground that the provisions of those Acts were violative of articles 14, 19 and 31 of the Constitution and that the protection of article 31A was not available to them. It is, therefore, proposed to amend the definition of "estate" in article 31A of the Constitution by including therein lands held under ryotwari settlement and also other lands in respect of which provisions are normally made in land reform enactments. It is further proposed to provide that where any law makes a provision for the acquisition by the State of any estate and where any land comprised therein is held by a person under his personal cultivation, it shall not be lawful for the State to acquire any such land as is within the ceiling limit applicable to him under any law for the time being in force or any building or structure standing thereon or appurtenant thereto, unless the law relating to the acquisition of such land, building or structure provides for payment of compensation at a rate not less than the market value thereof.

2. It is also proposed to amend the Ninth Schedule by including therein certain State enactments relating to land reform in order to remove any uncertainty or doubt that may arise in regard to their validity.

3. The Bill seeks to achieve these objects.

PART VI.—Bills introduced in Parliament of India; Reports of Select Committees presented to Parliament; and Bills published before introduction in Parliament.

RAJYA SABHA

The following Bill was introduced in the Rajya Sabha on the 24th December, 1964:—

III

BILL No. XXXIV of 1964

A Bill further to amend the Employees' Provident Funds Act, 1952.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Fifteenth Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

1. (1) This Act may be called the Employees' Provident Funds (Amendment) Act, 1964. Short title and commencement.

(2) It shall be deemed to have come into force on the 24th day of November, 1964.

19 of 1952. 2. In section 2 of the Employees' Provident Funds Act, 1952, in sub-clause (i) of clause (a), after the words "a controlled industry,", the words "or in relation to an establishment having departments or branches in more than one State," shall be inserted. Amendment of section 2.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Under the Employees' Provident Funds Act, 1952, which provides for the institution of compulsory provident funds for employees in factories and other establishments, where an establishment already provides benefits in the nature of provident fund or other retirement benefits to its employees, not less favourable than those provided under the Act and the Scheme framed thereunder, the establishment may be exempted from the operation of the Scheme subject to certain conditions. Such exemption is granted by the Central Government in cases of establishments belonging to, or under the control of, the Central Government or connected with a railway, major port, mine, oil-field or controlled industry and by the State Governments in other cases. It is considered that where an establishment consists of departments or branches located in different States, the power to grant exemption should be exercised by the Central Government. This is necessary for the sake of uniformity and convenience of all concerned. It is accordingly proposed to amend the definition of the term "appropriate Government" given in section 2(a) of the Act. As this power has already been exercised by the Central Government in some urgent cases, it is proposed to give retrospective effect to this amendment.

2. The Bill seeks to give effect to the above proposal.

The object of the Bill is to replace the Calcutta Municipal (Second Amendment) Ordinance, 1965, by which an amendment was made to section 66 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1951. Before such amendment, a Councillor or an Alderman could not make an oath or affirmation of his allegiance to the Constitution of India except at a meeting of the Corporation. RESOLUTION

No. 17(3)/65-D.W.IV.—While negotiating a oan with the World Bank for the Third Unit at he Durgapur Thermal Power Station the Bank equired the Damodar Valley Corporation, as a ondition for the grant of the loan, to give an ndertaking that the D.V.C. Power Tariff would e increased suitably so as to earn a return of at east 7 per cent. on the net value of assets in use uring any year. In pursuance of this undertakng the Damodar Valley Corporation decided to evise its tariff and served notices on the consuners in March 1964 intimating that the revised ariff would take effect from 1st April 1965. ertain representations have, however, been eceived against the increase in the tariff. The overnment of India have decided in consultation ith the participating Governments of West Bengal nd Bihar that a high level committee should be onstituted to go into the question whether the .V.C. tariff should be revised and if so to deterine the quantum thereof as also the manner of phasing of the increase in tariff. The Committee will comprise of the following members :—

2. While making recommendations the Committee will take into account the following points :—

(a) Commitments made to the World Bank regarding minimum return.

(b) Recommendations of the Venkataraman Committee.

(c) All other relevant issues such as the question whether the revised tariff should be allowed to remain in force until such time as the Damodar Valley Corporation takes a decision to revise the tariff on the basis of the Committee's recommendations.

3. The Committee will submit its report within a month.
